JEB DUNNUCK

92 POINTS

From a great Sta. Rita Hills site, the 2017 Pinot Noir Bentrack was all destemmed and saw 16 months in 75% new French oak. It's similarly colored to the La Encantada release and offers lots of classic marine notes in its spiced blackberries, underbrush, leather, and truffle aromas and flavors. It's slightly more rounded and supple, has soft tannins, good freshness, and outstanding length. It has loads of character and I suspect will be best drunk before the La Encantada release.
