Alma Rosa Winery

Santa Ynez Valley is a vibrant and charming strip of wine country located in Santa Barbara County. The area is best known for its ability to produce quality Pinot Noir thanks to the unique nearby ocean climate. Though there are a handful of different towns located within the valley, none are perhaps as unique as the Danish town of Solvang. Between the transportive architecture and informative museums, Solvang gives visitors a true taste of Denmark right from the heart of central California.

Located in the beautiful Sta. Rita Hills, Alma Rosa Winery boasts an impressive tasting room just 45 minutes north of downtown Santa Barbara. Specializing in vineyard-designated and small-production wines allows each bottle at Alma Rosa to be unique in flavor and bottled with care. Alma Rosa is known for its Chardonnay and Pinot Noir wines, but also offers a myriad of other wines grown and bottled on-site for guests to taste.

The tasting room is charming and more modern when compared to surrounding wineries. The courtyard is over 1,000 square feet, and with both interior and exterior space to indulge in a tasting, guests can enjoy sipping no matter what the weather. The tastefully decorated interior is flooded with tons of light thanks to the large windows and open setting. The tasting fee is only $25 and includes an ever-changing selection of five Pinot Noirs, Chardonnays, Rhône varietals, and sparkling wines from the Alma Rosa portfolio.
